Police officer to driver:
"Your tail light is broken,
your windshield is cracked,
and your bumper is hanging halfway down. That will be 300 dollars!" [Pause]
Driver: "Alright, go ahead and do it. They want twice as much as that at the garage."

My books all just piled on top of me; I've only got my shelf to blame.

A husband and wife were at a marriage seminar. The presenter was reminding them how important it is for spouses to really know each other. "For example," he said,
"what is your wife's favorite kind of flower?"
The husband nervously
leaned over and whispered
in his wife's ear, "It's self-rising, isn't it?"

Instructor: You would be a good dancer if it weren't for two things.
Student: And what are
those two things?
Instructor: Your feet.

A grandpa was enjoying watching a football game
with his grandchildren.
"You know," he said, "it's not easy getting old. I guess I'm in the fourth quarter now."
"Don't worry, Grandpa," his grandson said cheerily.
"Maybe you will get to go into overtime."

Two brothers were fast asleep
when the eldest heard a thud.
Eldest: What was that sound?
Youngest: Oh, it's just my
t-shirt falling off my bed.
Eldest: Your t-shirt? Why was it so loud?
Youngest: Because I was still in it.

Teacher: Why are you late?
Student: Well, because class started before I got here.

...

Bacon was definitely the first-round draft pick in the BLT...
No one's building a sandwich around lettuce!

"How's the diet going?"
"Not good. I had two eggs
for breakfast."
"Scrambled?"
"No, chocolate."

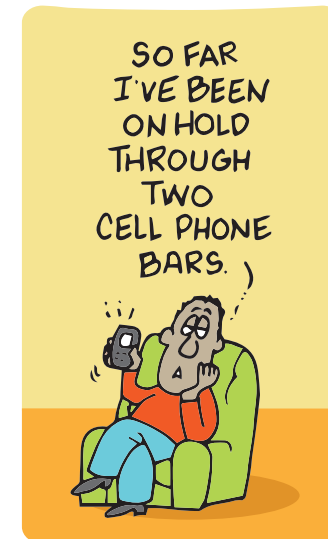

A genie appeared to a man
one day and asked, "What's your first wish?"
Taken aback, he quickly
answered, "I wish I was rich!"
The genie said, "What's your second wish, Rich?"

Where do fish keep their money?
In the river banks.

Yesterday, I ate the clock.
It was very time-consuming.
Especially when I went back for seconds.

Susie reviewed her young son's fill-in-the-blank homework.
One line: "At Christmas,
we exchange gifts with
_____."
His response: "Receipts."

Did you hear the joke about the roof?
Ah forget it; it's over your head.

Fred calls his plumber, "Can you please come fix my kitchen sink again?"
The plumber replied, "You know, Fred, I'm always at your disposal."

A woman went into a hardware store to purchase a bale of peat moss. To pay for it, she handed a personal check to the clerk and said,
"I suppose you will want some identification."
Without hesitation, he replied, "No ma'am, that won't be necessary."
"How come?" asked the woman, curious.
"Crooks don't usually buy
peat moss," said the clerk.

A friend asked for the password to our Wi-Fi.
"It's taped under the modem,"
I told him.
After three failed attempts to log on, he asked, "Am I spelling this right:
T-A-P-E-D-U-N-D-E-R-T-H-E-M-O-D-E-M?"

THOUGHTS ON SPRING CLEANING

"Cleaning your house while your kids are still growing is like shoveling the walk
before it stops snowing."
—Phyllis Diller

"My idea of housework is to sweep the room with a glance."
—Erma Bombeck

"You don't get anything
clean without getting something else dirty."
—Cecil Baxter

I just cleaned the house from top to bottom, so I'm gonna need everyone to stop living here.

I had to clean my house for two hours just to tell guests
"Sorry about the mess."

Hurry up and clean the house. We don't want people thinking we live the way we actually live.

Cleaning is just putting stuff
in less obvious places.
